PreCash Adds Nearly 50,000 More Ways for Consumers to Add Cash to Prepaid Debit Cards with Green Dot and Galileo Partnership
Industry Leaders Team Up to Offer 'First Load Free' Promotion

Houston, TX – August 24, 2009 – PreCash, its processor Galileo and Green Dot are partnering to give PreCash's prepaid debit card-holders the ability to add cash to their cards at nearly 50,000 U.S. retail locations by using a Green Dot MoneyPak. In addition to Direct Deposit, PreCash cardholders can now load cash onto their cards at more locations nationwide, including Walgreens, CVS/pharmacy, Rite Aid, Kmart and Kroger.

To promote this new reloading option, Green Dot and PreCash will be offering PreCash's Vision Premier® Prepaid Visa® Card with Direct Deposit cardholders a "First Load Free" reward through the holiday season. For Vision Premier Prepaid Visa Card cardholders who load their cards with a Green Dot MoneyPak between August 5, 2009 and December 31, 2009, PreCash will rebate the load fee within four weeks of the transaction with a statement credit. Details about the promotion are available at www.visionprepaid.com.

"We've seen exponential growth with our Vision Premier Card over the last four years as consumers look for credit card alternatives that offer the same convenience, management and protection of plastic, without hidden fees," says John Chaney, Chairman and CEO for PreCash. "With the Green Dot MoneyPak, our cardholders have another safe, convenient and affordable way to add cash to any of their accounts."

Mark Troughton, President of Green Dot Financial Network states, "Green Dot is very pleased to partner with PreCash and provide their cardholders the ease and convenience of loading cash to their Card, at the point-of-sale, at the nation's largest retailers."

"We are excited about the continued growth and success of the PreCash prepaid programs. Providing more convenient options to reload cards through the Green Dot Reload Network will be a great added benefit for PreCash customers," said Todd Brockman, President of Galileo Processing, Inc.
